Marriage Ceremony Postponed and Finally Performed in Pire House - Wedding Witnessed by Chief and Firemen.

Pire Chief Dowling and all the other members of Engine Company No. 1 acted as best seen in the marriage ceremony of Joseph Price and Miss Carrie Pensen of Fast St. Louis yesterday afternoon.

The couple secured a license and engaged Judge Stanton to perform the ceremony which was to make them one. They expected to make the affair quite private, and strolled down the street in the direction of the Judge's office alone.

The pair walked up to the stairway leading to the office quite boldly, but it seems they halted suddenly. The man darted up the stairway, or rather a portion of it, but when he saw that his flances was not following, he darted down again, and a hurried parley was called.

The lady looked at the stairs and then at her expected husband. She said that if she had to climb the horrid things in order to get married she would be compelled to give up in despair. Another con-she had to citims the would be com-pelled to give up in despial. Another con-rab was held, in which the accommodating Judge joined in, and a compromise was effected. The gallant in the case said that if his sweetheart could not and would not climb the stairs other arrangements would have to be made.

The Judge noticed that the door of the ring Junge noticed that the door of the engine-room was standing open, and he in-vited the couple across the street to the engine-house. The consent of Chef Dowl-ing was obtained and with the firemen standing around in a circle, Judge Stan-ton spoke the magic words which joined the couple.

It seems that the bride, who tips the beam at 250 pounds is also a sufferer from asthma, and, of course, the thought of climbing the stairs was too much for her. Her husband weighs just half as much as his wife.

The young couple entertained a number of their friends at their new home on South Sixth street last night.

Joseph H. Ford and Miss Jessie Rum-merfield of Alton were married here yes-terday without the consent of their par-nuts. The couple came from Alton and hurried from the depot to the office of Marriage License Clerk George Caugh-lan, where they procured the coveted lan, where they procured the covered document.

After securing the paper and before the ceremony was performed the young lady called up her father's place of business at Alton and said that she had something very interesting to tell him. She bluntly informed her parent that she and Mr. Ford had been married. Without haiting a moment she said further that if it was all right they would come home and if they could not expect foregiveness they would continue on their journey.

Without much hesitancy Mr. Rummerfield said that all would be forgiven. The young woman gave expression to an elacufield said that all would be to given. The young woman gave expression to an elaculation of pleasure. Turning to her lover she said: "Come shead; it is all right." The party crossed the hall to Judge Stanton's office, where the knot was tied. They left for Alton on the next outgoing

Vice President of National Bank of Commerce Suggests New Law - Secretary Shaw Using Points in His Message.

The Commerce Monthly will publish in its Christmas number an article by J. C. Van Biarcom, first vice president of the National Bank of Commerce, on currency reform. Mr. Van Biarcom was appointed a member of the special committee of the American Bankers' Association to submit practical suggestions for an elastic currency system.

practical suggestions for an elastic currency system.

The recommendations offered by Mr. Van Blarcom in this article were approved by a majority of the American Bankers' Association's committee, and a statement is current among financiers that Secretary of the Treasury Shaw drew liberally from Mr. Van Blarcom's suggestions in preparing official messages on this subject.

Mr. Van Hiarcom's article is long and comprehensive. After going thoroughly into questions concerning gold sapply, currency, clearing-house certificates, expansion and contraction, he says:

HIS SUGGESTIONS.

I suggest the framing of a bill on these lines:

1. With the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency permit the national banks to issue circulation to amount of paid-in capital.

2. This circulation to be a first lien on the assets of the issuing banks.

3. The banks to pay a tax on the circulation equal to 6 per cent per assum whilst it is outstanding.

2. This circulation to be a first lien on the assets of the lasting banks.

3. The banks to pay a ax on the circulation equal to 6 per cent per assums whilst it is outstanding, per cent per assums whilst it is outstanding.

4. The circulation to be retired by depositing specie, United States, the actual relemption to be made by the Treasurer of the United States, the actual relemption to be made by the Treasurer in the same manner as national bank notes are now redeemed.

5. The interest charge against the issuing banks to cease when funds for redemption of the circulation are forwarded to the United States Treasurer.

6. The tax of 6 per cent per annum to be used to cover all expenses of circulation and create a redemption fund.

Would such a circulation reset the requirements of the resolution passed by the American Bankers' Association, and impart "a greater degree of elasticity etc."

If I am to understand that "elasticity" embraces both expansion in response to the business demands and contraction when not needed. I think such a currency would accomplish both.

Such a currency would do all that the Cenning-bouse certificates have done heretofore, and also give relief and assistance to the general business interests; it would serve to check mannial disturbances and furnish is safe medium for circulation at critical moments, and although it would be an indicator of financial disturbances and furnish the needed assistance, it would also furnish the needed assistance, it would also furnish the needed assistance, it would be an indicator of financial disturbances and furnish in the needed assistance of the great expense attending its use, and would accomplish these things without the great expense of the heads only on approval of the Completion of the Clarrency would fine consent of the Completion would be issued only on approval of the Completion of the Currency would also form the beams of forcing the branks in good standing on the leanns of the lands, expectably if the bair for itself the expension of this p night, and had his supper sent to the store.

There were no witnesses to the accident, the unconscious form of the boy having been descovered at the bottom of the elevator shaft several minutes after he fell. Well was last seen on the second floor and the theory is that in attempting to send the elevator down he misjudged the distance between the floor and the elevator car and in that way fell headlong down the shaft.

Well's skull is fractured, and at a late hour last night the hospital surgeons held out little hope for him.

Pit Traders and Commission Houses Demand Make Oats Strong, and Provisions Have Good Undertone.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Liquidation of an enormous line of wheat by a leading holder caused a break to-day of nearly le per bu, in the price of the May delivery. The market closed weak at almost the lowest point of the day, final quotations on May being off Sec. Corn was up Sec. Outs were practically unchanged. Provisions a gain of Se.

WHEAT.

The slump in the price of wheat occurred scon after the opining and although the market railled several times during the day on covering by shorts, the feeling generally was weak. Trading was scarcely under way when brokers commenced to offer wheat in apparently unlimited quantities. Within a few minutes at lenst 2.000.00 bu. of the May option had been thrown into the pit.

It was generally understood that this wheat was part of the holdings of a leading buil. This started heavy selling by pit traders and the result was a quick decline. Before the downward course of values was checked the price of May had fallen to 80a.

Toward the end of the first hour offerings from the big long became less frequent and trading was of a spasmodic character during the remainder of the day. The faliure of the Liverpool wheat market to respond to the sharp advance registered here yesterday contributed to the weakness on the local board.

News of the day which was generally buillish was seemingly ignored. Receipts in the Northwest were small and total primary receipts were less than for the corresponding day one year ago. Demand for cash wheat, both in the Northwest and Southwest, continued unabated. In addition, an official report stated that the wheat crop of India had been seriously damaged by drought.

The market closed with May at 8%c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 318 000 bu. Primary receipts were 128, 200 bu. compared with 30.000 bu. a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 60 cars, against 738 cars a year ago.

CORN.

Notwithstanding the break in wheat, the corn market was firm for the greater part

Notwithstanding the break in wheat, the corn market was firm for the greater part of the day. Light offerings from the country continued good demand from exporters formed the basis of the strength. The market closed firm with prices at practically the hishest point of the day. OATS. Oats were firm on active demand from pit traders and commission houses. The urgent demand from foreigners for American oats was the chief source of strength. Small local receipts augmented the bull-lish sentiment. May opened unchanged to a shade lower at 25c to 23%c, sold be-
